

As I begin my second and final year as Interim Head, I am humbled by the opportunity to lead such an amazing community and heartened by the successes of the students, faculty, and staff during the past year.

Most exciting, of course, is the graduation of the Class of 2013 and their acceptances into some of the most prestigious colleges in the country including Yale, Vanderbilt, Brandeis, Colgate, and MIT. Other reasons to celebrate include 0% turnover of full-time faculty, construction and opening of the Tom King Theater, our strongest recruiting year ever (with 71 new girls, up from 35 last year), and the enrollment of four terrific girls from China.

Your confidence in AGS makes so much of this possible and helps to make AGS the very best place for girls. The support of the AGS community totaled more than $1 million last year, with 98.5% of families and 100% of board, faculty, and staff participating in the Annual Fund. Many friends, families, grandparents, and trustees stretched to become members of the November 5th Society, each giving $5,000 or more to the Annual Fund.

➔ Through your financial support and in so many other ways, you are empowering our girls to become confident in themselves and their abilities to lead in the classroom and beyond.

I simply cannot imagine a better investment or a stronger community with which I would want to be affiliated. I look forward to partnering with you in the coming year to raise $1.1 million to further the AGS mission and opportunities for girls to succeed.

Sincerely,

Joan King

November 5th Society honors and recognizes individual donors who support the Atlanta Girls' School Annual Fund at the $5,000 level and above. In addition to their generous level of giving to the Annual Fund, many members sponsor or host the auction and participate in the Georgia Tax Credit Program.

The Society was named in honor of the first gift made to AGS by a non-founder—on November 5, 1998. Members of the November 5th Society are recognized each November on Founders' Day.

Investing in AGS success

A passion for girls' education and a love for her granddaughters drives Sue Mobley to invest in the success of Atlanta Girls' School.

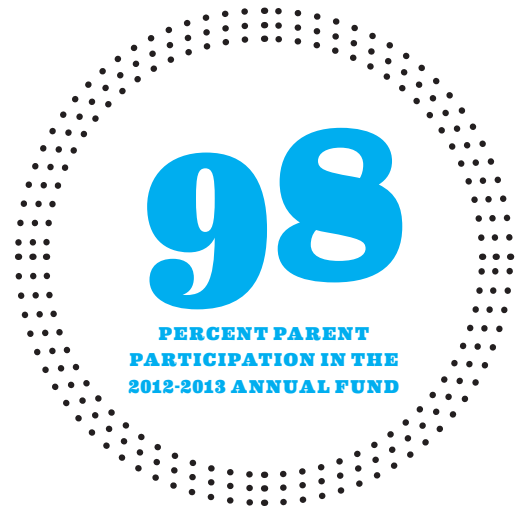

In May of this year, Sue Mobley gave generously in support of capital improvements including the transformation of an experimental theater and upgrades to safety and infrastructure. These enhancements have enabled the AGS facility to better reflect the outstanding work that is happening inside the classrooms as well as in the hearts and minds of AGS students.

Most of Sue's understanding about what goes on at AGS is gathered during conversations around the dinner table with her granddaughters, Sarah and Charlotte Hassett, students in the 12th and 10th grades, respectively.

She sees great similarities in the way that AGS faculty relate to and know each and every girl just as her high school teachers knew her.

A graduate of Sweet Briar College and Washington Seminary High School, Sue seeks to honor the hard work that students at AGS are doing every day. "Atlanta Girls' School asks so much of each student that it is only fair that we provide an inviting and safe environment for them to express themselves academically, creatively, and physically." She hopes that families, friends, and grandparents will join her in generously supporting "a school that has already proven itself to be the source of excellent education for Atlanta's girls."
